Mrs. W. B. Morgan went to Veteran's Hospital in Montgomery Friday to bring her husband home. He had been receiving treatment for ten days. His health was so greatly improved that he resumed his duties at the power plant that night. His return was welcomed by Edd Hatcher and Cleo Hawkins whohad been working 12 hour shifts in Mr. Morgan's absence.

FORTNER HOSPITALIZED

Mrs. W. B. Morgan went to Veteran's Hospital in Montgomery friday to bring her husband home. He had been receiving treatment for ten days. His mercury to drop to a cool 30.

The rain was the first appreciable moisture this area had had in nearly two weeks. Crops and all kinds of vegetation were suffering. The rain covered a wide area but was light in some spots over the county. Cotton which is beginning to open will be helped and some corn will profit. Pasures and lawns were greatly benefited.

BAD SITUATION ARISING Quietly but surely a bad situation has been coming through Sunday, August 3. Rev. up in Elba for the past four months. The City has drop-| E. J. Isdell from Brundidge will | ped that far in arrears in its monthly payments to the be the evangelist. Everyone is Coffee County Board of Education.

When the new school and gymnasium were built here several years ago the County Board of Education floated a bond issue to pay for part of the construction expenses with the understanding that the City would pay off the bonds. Elba officials have bucked paying the monthly premiums because they contend they were pressured into making the agreement.

Last summer this same situation arose. The Board of Education, acting under recommendations from the State Department of Education, told city officials the county board would pay off the bonds. But in order to get the money to meet payment, they would slice funds anoted Elba schools. The equivalent of two teachers' salaries would be needed to take care of the obligation.

There is no reason to believe their attitude has changed in the past few months. If the Board is forced to meet payments on the bonds, they will reach into Elba's allotments. From their point of view, it would be unfair to use money from any other school to meet Elba's obligations.

In the entire dispute one factor stands out. That is the students attending school now should not be penalized because of disagreements or misunderstandings between city officials, the county board of education and the state department of education. No matter who is right or wrong, starting classes in the Elba schools this fall with a shortage of two instructors would put an impossible burden on school administra-

It is up to city officials to salvage the best agreement possible out of the situation and then stick by their word so that the same mess won't be coming to the fore year after year.
